Please RSVP here by October 16, 2014.

Nearly 3 in 5 California public school students are eligible for free or reduced-price meals. Those resources help our most vulnerable students learn, grow and achieve to their fullest potential – but millions of kids across our state are missing out on the benefits of school breakfast.

Please join California Food Policy Advocates and a panel of experts to discuss key policy issues and emerging opportunities.

- State Fiscal & Economic Impacts of Expanding School Breakfast
- Effects of School Breakfast Policies on Children's Diets
- School Breakfast Policies to Support Health & Academic Achievement

Why join in?

- ✓ Access the latest state and local analyses of school breakfast
- ✓ Discuss emerging state policy opportunities
- ✓ Share your valuable comments, questions, and suggestions with a diverse group of stakeholders
